Education

Digital Design (Newcastle College)

2015-2017

I completed a Foundation Degree in Digital Design after 2 years of studying. Here I was allowed to explore and work with a large number of disciplines such as web design and front-end development along with app design. In this time I also got the chance to work with clients and agencies on some projects.

Animation, Gaming and Interface Design (Newcastle College)

2013-2015

I spent 2 years studying for an A-Level. In this time I worked on my basic design skills and animation skills. This later carried over into interface design, allowing me to use them skills in web and app design.

Work

Freelance Web Designer and Developer

Jan 2018 - Present

I worked with Status Digital, a design agency based just outside of Newcastle, for a month. In my time there I worked as part of their development team helping with their existing projects they had on such as school website and a student letting agency.

Status Digital Marketing Limited

June 2016

I worked with Status Digital, a design agency based just outside of Newcastle, for a month. In my time there I worked as part of their development team helping with their existing projects they had on such as school website and a student letting agency.

Funeral Director Websites

Jan 2017 - 2018

Funeral Director Websites is a company based in Newcastle that specialised in websites and social media for Funeral Directors based all over the country. This was a client facing role that allowed me to see projects all the way through and allowed me a lot of freedom.

RGB Digital

April 2017

I spent a month working for a print and web design agency based in Sunderland. Here I worked as part of a small design and development team on a number of different projects that allowed me to use my skills in animation and web design.
